THE tax inquiry may be said to be making fair progress in the Senate.

A SERVICEABLE road over the Fall to the Koolau district will open up a wide and rich expanse of Oahu to the profit of many individuals and the whole Island and country.

JUST now the question of granting university degrees to women is being extensively discussed in England. It is conceded that they may be safely given an "A. B." and argued that no real evil would result in allowing them full privileges.

THE cable is not already at service. This will be a year of big "goings-on" in the United States. Before the holidays came again one of the very greatest political struggles that country has ever witnessed will have ended. And the campaign in steps and results is of the utmost moment to the Islands.

THE New York City Board of Health has instructed the Board of Education to abolish the use of slates. This is on the ground that the old time implements of education spread disease. Pads of paper are given instead of slates and the latter will soon be used exclusively everywhere for "spirit message" work.

HOSHINO has appealed for a trial by jury. He was convicted in District Court of dealing in opium. This while a trusted attaché of the Custom house. The sentence was six months and $500. It seemed a clear case against the man. In the light of all the evidence and circumstances he was treated with leniency. The case should be vigorously prosecuted to the end.

IF THINGS continue moving from bad to worse newspaper writers in Hawaii will soon rank as a class with the aldermen and sensational preachers of the United States. All public prints and their sponsors should be held to strict accountability, but any tendency to muzzle legitimate disseminators of news and opinion will be resented and fought to the last ditch.

RESIDENTS should assist tourists in learning that the volcano of Halemaumau, in the famous Kilauea crater, is always active. At times the actual red fires cannot be seen. This detracts very little from the wonder. But the condition is magnified to indicate that the trip from Honolulu will be practically a waste. No statement or assumption could be more erroneous. The sight with the fires at the ebb is well worth the journey. There is nothing else like it on the globe. The floor of the great crater is the impress of many miles of lava flow. Vapor and smoke float from fissures. The small extinct crater of Kilauea-iki is a marvelous sight and the sulphur baths and the fern forest are features, while the ride over the new road is an outing of deepest interest.

A REFLECTION.
Ambrose Bierce in the San Francisco Examiner: There is probably no necessary and essential connection between patriotism and idiocy, but they are so frequently found living comfortably together in the same mind that it is charitable to suppose them married.

TALMAGE AT HIS BEST.
In the great home mission mass meeting of this month, at New York, with President Cleveland as an attendant and orator, Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage made a grand address. Here are some of the sentiments:

"Our glorious Presbyterianism is in full bloom tonight. This will be a historical moment, and far down the years it will be told that in the commercial metropolis of this nation, the man who has on him the highest honors this world can give, and twice received these honors from the American people, in this great mass meeting for God and righteousness put down the grandeur of his office at the feet of Jesus."

"Germany for scholarship, England for manufactures, France for manners, Egypt for antiquities, Italy for pictures, but America for God."

"You must remember it is only about 7 o'clock in the morning of our nation's life."

"In this country already planted and to be overcome, paganism has already built its altars to Brahma and the Chinese are already burning incense in their temples and Mohammedanism, drunk in their days with red wine of human blood at Lucknow and Cawnpore, and now fresh from Armenia, is trying to get a foothold here, and from the minarets of her mosques will yet mumble her blasphemies."

"Then there is what in America we call socialism, in France, communism, and in Russia nihilism—three names for one and the same thing, and having but two doctrines in its creed: First, there is no God; second, there shall be no rights of property."

AN AFFAIR OF HONOR.

Two prominent gentlemen of Pittsburgh got into a personal difficulty the other day over a political question, and one of them talked violently about slapping the other's face. This was taken as an insult, and the aggrieved party sent a friend to request an apology or to arrange for a quiet meeting or the rendering of due satisfaction. The challenged party replied that he had nothing to retract or apologize for, and that if the other was thirsting for his gore he would meet him at the north pole on the 31st of February, 1999, to settle the affair with squirt-guns. It is hinted that this may not be the end of the matter, as both of the parties have "sand."

Honesty in business dealings is the only ladder to success and a firm whose prosperity and reputation is built upon the honor and truthfulness of their statements will eventually surmount all difficulties. We always make it "an affair of honor" when stating that the HENDRY BREAKER is one of the articles for plantation use that has helped more managers than you have any idea of.

Since introducing the HENDRY BREAKER we have placed orders with numerous plantations which after giving them a thorough test have discarded those formerly used and supplanted them with the HENDRY BREAKER, and we have the satisfaction of reading glowing testimonials from the managers of twenty-seven plantations.

Its superiority over other breakers is not a speculation but an assured fact. Being of light draught and strongly built by being thoroughly protected and braced where the strain is the greatest it is practically indestructible.

It will do the work of twelve or fourteen mules with eight, and you can consequently use the surplus power, that would otherwise be required for plowing, for other purposes.

As a "working mate" to the above plow we offer the HENDRY DOUBLE FURROW. One of the features of this plow lies in the fact that the mould boards are sufficiently high to prevent the dirt from falling back into the furrow after the plow goes over the ground. Two less animals are required to pull it than any other plow.

Now that the plantation managers are working night and day to produce sugar and forward it to the market, we can help them materially in the matter of supplies, because our prices "are right" and the quality of the goods superior to the average.

We have had wonderful success with our COLORADO LUBRICATING OILS for the reason that they are manufactured of the very best ingredients.

The oils, after a most thorough test with other oils have proven better than any other imported to the Islands. We have these oils in use on nearly all the plantations and are constantly obtaining new customers who become permanent buyers.

Engine oil has taken the place of lard oil on many plantations. There is economy in using oils as there is in anything else.

Dynamo, engine, machine, car box and valve oil make up the list that covers every branch of machinery for which oil is made. Cylinder Oil may be used six times before it will separate; this cannot be done with any other grade of oil.

W.W. DIMOND'S

The lawns in Honolulu form an attractive feature to tourists and residents. The visitor arriving here at this season from a locality where blizzards, snow and sleet have been characteristic of the north are impressed with the beautiful greens unfolded to their view here in Paradise.

But nice lawns and well kept gardens do not come spontaneously; they are the result of hard work by the yardman and artistic planning on the part of the head of the house. And much depends on the materials used. You can get a lawn mower, mayhap, that will look well when you buy it, but six months afterward grass cut with it will resemble the hair on a mungy dog's back—"odd and even."

The "New Model" is a superior mower because the materials from which it is made are of the finest quality. The steel blades are hardened so that they will not nick and break when they are run against an algeroba bean. We have seen the "New Model" that had been used on the roughest kind of land without its suffering in any way from what might well be considered, rough usage.

In this place, where lawns are sometimes neglected and where the grass grows rapidly a high grass cutter is a necessity. You've been paying $20 for one such as we charge you $9. Is there a saving in it? We have them as low as $8. All high grass cutters. They cut long grass, too!

Live Stock Points.

It will be the best possible news to breeders that the export trade in horses is manifestly increasing. Five additional cities of Europe, and for Europe have lately opened headquarters at the Union stockyards, Chicago. Europe is so thickly populated that there seems to be no longer room for all the horses needed. Then, too, electricity as a motive power is not replacing horseflesh so rapidly in the slower countries of Europe as it is in America. Let American horse breeders thank God and take courage and at the same time go to raising superior animals as fast as they can. First class carriage and draft horses, the latter not of the heaviest proportions, sell well to European buyers. We can scarcely raise the type of heaviest draft horse in demand in America. Consequently many of our superior horses were sold from the Dominion, both in this country and in Europe. But we are catching up now.

One firm of horse dealers in Glasgow tried to make a contract in Chicago for the delivery and shipment of 100 horses a week. The horses wanted were the kind used for street cars and the lighter kind of hauling.

The foreign horse buyers in America pay a shade higher price for horses than they will bring on the home market. But the horses must be no slouches. A carriage horse with a short back, high action, round body, heavy quarters and neat limbs is the one wanted. Good endurance is also required.

When your stock is shipped in filthy cars, make a royal row about it. Do not put up with it for a moment, unless you want your stock to get sick and die.

We shall certainly know the truth about the cattle supply when the careful inquiry ordered by Secretary of Agriculture Morton is published.

A Man at a Meeting of Sororists. A few years ago a distinguished female singer from the operatic stage was invited to sing by Sororists. She came late and hurried into Delmonico's ballroom, where Sororists was then wont to meet, followed by a little, nervous, very Italian. The hundred ladies, dressed in black and white, looked at her with interest. She was then president, hurried down from the presiding chair and had a hurried whispering conversation with the opera singer, who the little Italian stood in the aisle suffering mental agonies from the concentrated glare of 200 feminine eyes. Then the opera singer overheard to say:

"Why, madam, he is my accompanist, and I cannot sing without him. If he goes, then I must go."

The president returned to her chair, the singer seated herself, and the social gathering resolved itself into a business body—the poor, nervous pianist standing still in the aisle like a criminal before the bar of justice. The matter was freely discussed, and finally it was resolved to make an exception and allow the Italian to remain and play. Fortunately for the Italian, he understood very little English, and after standing quizzically through the debate he boldly walked up to the piano and began to play. He was persevered to remain and play, but when he had finished he bolted, and every footstep rang out indignation and defiance.—New York Times.

The Case of Mrs. McFarland. The case while at Copenhagen makes no secret of his profound dislike to the German language, which he knows, but persistently declines to speak. This often causes considerable embarrassment, and only the other day, while attending a meeting of Danish friends, he refused to answer one of the officers who addressed him in German until the query was repeated in English.—Berlin Letter.

In the fall of 1895 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Alameda, Cal., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have a cold he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. ## A Good Rival to Have.

We have just received from N. Y. a large shipment of the best low priced Ranges made in the U. S. One style is known as the "Rival Manhattan," and it is a low priced, five-hole Range, with large fire box fitted with shaking and dumping grate, automatic oven shelf, large top end shelf, drop broiler door, and nickel oven door panel. Number 6 has an oven 15 by 13, and number 7 has one 15 by 15. These are not the ordinary stove, such as you will find in most of the stores, but a complete range, with five holes; and room enough to do all the cooking for a good sized family, and yet small enough to go into a small kitchen, and still leave plenty of room. A lady saw these ranges going into our warehouse yesterday; and bought one just as it stood on the dory, saying that, as she had only five to cook for she wanted just such a range, so she could get rid of a larger old style stove, have more room, and burn less fuel. We sell this range for $12., so it is within the reach of any family.
